1. Introduction and key points

This Statistics Release presents the latest figures for Self-directed Support (Direct Payments). The latest figures apply to payments made during the period 1st April 2009 to 31st March 2010 under section 12B of the Social Work (Scotland) Act 1968. People who receive Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) are able to purchase and manage for themselves some or all of the care they have been assessed as needing. They are one way of increasing the flexibility, choice, and control people have over the care they receive, so that they can live more independently in their communities. A client may have more than one payment during the year.

Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) have been available to disabled people aged 18-64 since April 1997, and to disabled people aged 65 and over since July 2000. Since 21 December 2001 they have also been available to disabled 16 and 17 year olds and disabled parents for children's services. From 1 June 2003 it became a duty for local authorities to offer direct payments in place of providing services to all eligible disabled people aged 16 and over and to parents (or those with parental responsibility) for disabled children aged 15 and under.

The information is derived from returns made to the Scottish Government by Scottish Local Authorities. Figures may not sum due to incomplete data.

Key findings

- The number of people in receipt of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) has increased each year from 207 in 2001 to 3,678 in the year to 31st March 2010.
- The number of people in receipt of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) has increased from 3,017 in 2009 to 3,678 in 2010, an increase of 22 per cent.
- The value of direct payments has increased each year from £2.1 million in 2001 to £40.2 million in 2010.
- The value of direct payments has increased from £33.0 million in 2009 to £40.2 million in 2010, an increase of 22 per cent.
- 45 per cent of people receiving Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) had a physical disability and 23 per cent had a learning disability. A further 3 per cent had both a physical and a learning disability.

Note: Prior to 2010, the Dementia client group was not collected separately and may have been included under 'Mental Health Problems' or 'Other'.

2. Scotland Analysis

Figures behind the charts are available in the annex.

- Across Scotland 3,678 people received Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) in the year 2009/10, an increase of 661 (22 per cent) from the 2008/09 level.
- 45 per cent of these 3,678 people received Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) due to a physical disability. 3 per cent of those receiving Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) in 2009/10 were due to having a learning disability and a physical disability. 23 per cent receiving Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) in 2009/10 were due to a learning disability.

Chart 2: Number of people receiving Self-directed Support (Direct payments) packages by client group and age, 2010

Chart 3: Percentage of people receiving Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) packages by age, 2001-2010

- The age profile of Self-directed Support (Direct Payment) clients has changed since 2001, with a greater proportion of recipients now aged 65 or over. In 2001 only 7 per cent of recipients were in this age group, compared to 32 per cent of clients in 2010.
- In the year to 31 March 2010, 1,190 payments (32 per cent of the total) were made to people aged over 65.
- There were slightly more females than males in receipt of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) in 2010, 55 per cent compared to 45 per cent.

Chart 4: Value of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) packages, 2001-2010

Note: Value of payments has been estimated for Renfrewshire Council.

• The total value of direct payments has steadily increased from 2001, and £40.2 million was spent in the year to 31 March 2010. Most of this, around £19.8 million, was spent on people with physical disabilities (49 per cent).

Chart 5: Average weekly hours in a Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) package - 2010

 On average there were 15.8 hours per week in a direct payment package in 2009/10. This varied slightly between client groups with an average of 16.4 hours per week in direct payment packages for people with mental health problems, 13.9 hours per week for frail older people, and 21.1 hours per week in those for people with physical disabilities.

Chart 6: Distribution of length of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) packages, 2010

Of the direct payments which were ongoing on 31 March 2010, 33 per cent had been in place for a year or less. A further 19 per cent had been going for over 1 year but less than 2 years and 19 per cent of payments had been in place for over 5 years.

Percentages are based on packages of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments). This data was not provided for every package of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments)

44 per cent of all packages of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) involved a personal assistant.

3. Local Authority Analysis

- All Local Authorities made payments for packages of Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) during the year to 31 March 2010.
- City of Edinburgh council had the most number of people receiving Self-directed Support (Direct payments) packages. (12 per cent of the Scotland total) and these payments amounted to just under £7 million. Shetland Islands had the smallest number of clients with 19 people receiving payments.
- All but 4 Local Authorities had more people receiving payments in 2010 than in the previous year.

Further Local Authority analysis can be found in the annex.

4. Background information on the collection of the data

The Self-directed Support (Direct Payments) survey began in 2001 and collects information on Direct Payments from all Local Authorities in Scotland.

The format of the survey was changed in 2006 to a person based return. This may have resulted in some inconsistency compared to previous years. The new survey asks for gender, date of birth, client group, value of direct payment throughout the year, weekly hours in the direct payment package, type of direct payment provision and type of care delivery along with a number of other variables.

The new form has allowed for more accurate calculation of average direct payment values. These are calculated by determining for how many days each person received a direct payment in 2009/10 (see 'average value 2' in Annex Table 4). The value of the direct payment is then divided by this number of days and the result is multiplied by the number of days in the year to estimate the value of a direct payment if the had client received it throughout the entire year. This can then be averaged to allow more accurate comparisons between, for example, client groups.

This publication contains average direct payment values calculated using both methods to allow for the continuation of existing time series.

In 2010, the data collection changed from an Excel form to local authorities submitting the data to the Scottish Government by ProcXed.Net. ProcXed.Net aims to support and promote the electronic exchange of information in Scotland. It reduces administrative burdens and increases the speed, ease and accuracy (via inbuilt data validation checks) of information exchange. It additionally encourages best practice and improves access to benchmarking information. Moreover, the system provides a secure method of sharing data. Further information about ProcXed.Net can be provided on request using the contact details below.

In 2010, the client group categories were reviewed by Community Care Statistics and aligned to the 2010 home care statistical return. It may not be possible therefore, to directly compare some client group analysis over time. In addition, direct payments which were used for respite, are excluded from the weekly hours analysis and are now recorded separately. This will effect the trends over time of the weekly hours data which used to include an estimate for respite.

All 32 local authorities provided information. However, Renfrewshire were unable to provide detailed information about the packages of support. An estimated value of their packages has been included in the Scotland total based on the average value of direct payment for Scotland, multiplied by the estimated number of packages for Renfrewshire (based on the number of clients which was provided).

Some column totals in the tables in this document may not exactly equal the sum of their component parts due to the effects of rounding.

SCOTTISH GOVERNMENT STATISTICIAN GROUP

OUR AIM

To provide relevant and reliable information, analysis and advice that meet the needs of government, business and the people of Scotland.

OBJECTIVES

- 1. To produce statistics and analysis relevant to user needs by
 - Developing our understanding of customer requirements to ensure statistics are kept relevant and analysis is well targeted;
 - Developing the range of statistics and analysis we produce;
 - Where practicable improving timeliness;
 - Providing more statistics disaggregated by age, gender and ethnicity;
 - Developing more data for small areas through the Neighbourhood Statistics project;
 - · Contributing to production of comparable statistics across the UK and internationally.
- 2. To ensure effective use of our statistics by
 - · Contributing more directly to policy processes inside and where possible outside government;
 - Improving access to and presentation of data and analysis:
 - · Improving the advice provided on statistics.
- 3. To work effectively with users and providers by
 - Maintaining arrangements to consult and involve users and providers;
 - Involving users and providers in planning developments in outputs and processes;
 - Minimising the burden on data providers through dropping or streamlining collections as appropriate, to ensure the benefits of the information justify the costs of collection.
- 4. To develop the quality of statistics by
 - Assuring and improving quality as an integral part of data collection and analysis and through regular reviews in line with National Statistics quality strategy;
 - · Developing statistical methods, systems and classifications;
 - Working with the rest of the Government Statistical Service to develop joint approaches/solutions where appropriate.
- 5. To assure the integrity of statistics by
 - Maintaining and promoting integrity through implementation of the National Statistics Code of Practice and related protocols;
 - Safeguarding the confidentiality of data subjects.
- 6. To ensure the efficient and effective delivery of statistics products and services by
 - Making best use of all sources including administrative sources:
 - Working with other analysts to maximise the contribution of our own and other analysts' work;
 - · Ensuring value for money;
 - Making best use of Information and Communications Technology;
 - Ensuring effective communication within the Statistician Group.
- 7. To develop our workforce and competences
 - Ensuring recruitment of staff with the necessary skills and potential;
 - Ensuring development of expertise amongst existing staff;
 - Promoting and upholding the standards of the statistics profession.

This is a National Statistics publication

"This is a National Statistics publication. It has been produced to high professional standards set out in the National Statistics Code of Practice Protocol - see www.statistics.gov.uk/about_ns/cop/default.asp

These statistics undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs. They are produced free from any political interference."
