Foreword

This Bibliography has been compiled with the intention of giving information about publications which cover research, commentaries or analysis relevant to the Guidance and Regulations for the Children (Scotland) Act 1995. Also included are details of relevant legislation and Scottish Office circulars.

A selection of general references relevant to the Act as a whole are included. Otherwise items have been grouped to fit with the different volumes and sections of the guidance. Since these deal primarily with local authority responsibilities, there are no separate listings of references about family law or the children's hearings. In the main, the publications refer specifically to Scotland. Efforts have been made to identify all significant articles, chapters and books published up to 1996. In the main unpublished material has not been included (eg agency reports). Doubtless there will be omissions, but hopefully the interested reader will have sufficient items to pursue the background to particular issues.

Certain materials have been included which refer to England and Wales (and occasionally elsewhere) when these are particularly pertinent. Usually this has been done when conclusions have been reached about elements of the Children Act 1989 that are similar to those included in the Children (Scotland) Act 1995 and so may have a bearing on the implementation of those sections.

Acknowledgements

The Bibliography and Index were prepared by Malcolm Hill, Irene Bloomfield, Moira Borland and Kay Tisdall of the Centre for the Child & Society, University of Glasgow. They are very grateful for suggestions concerning the Bibliography from staff at The Scottish Office, other members of the Centre for the Child & Society and colleagues in relevant departments of other Scottish Universities.
